Report on TechSprint Hackathon

The TechSprint Hackathon was conducted in two phases to ensure effective shortlisting and quality participation. The first phase focused on identifying the best teams at the department level, while the second phase brought together the shortlisted teams for the final institutional-level hackathon.

Phase 1: Department-Level Hackathon (Shortlisting Round)

In this phase, each department independently conducted an internal hackathon to evaluate student teams and shortlist their best performers. Teams were assessed based on innovation, problem understanding, technical feasibility, teamwork, and presentation. This phase encouraged broad participation and ensured that only the most promising teams advanced to the final round.

Phase 2: Final Hackathon

Shortlisted teams from all departments participated in the TechSprint Hackathon at the institutional level. Teams worked collaboratively to develop innovative solutions within the stipulated time, applying both technical and analytical skills. Faculty mentors monitored progress and supported teams throughout the event.

Participants

- Total participated batches: 57
- Total number of winning batches: 4
- Participation was exclusive to shortlisted students
- Students from multiple departments actively participated

The event witnessed enthusiastic involvement and strong team collaboration among participants.

Outcomes

- Enhanced student preparedness for external hackathons
- Improved problem-solving, teamwork, and communication skills
- Hands-on exposure to real-world problem statements
- Increased innovation mindset among students
