REPORT ON WORLD YOTUH SKILLS DAY

In observance of World Youth Skills Day on July 15, 2026, the Data Science Student Association organized a student-centric Skill Development Program aimed at fostering innovation, technical competence, and professional growth. The event engaged III-Year B.Tech students in a series of interactive activities, including poster presentations, technical talks, and knowledge-sharing sessions focused on emerging technologies and future-ready skills. The program provided a platform for students to demonstrate their technical expertise, creative thinking, and analytical abilities while enhancing communication, collaboration, and presentation skills. By encouraging active participation and experiential learning, the initiative reinforced the significance of skill development, lifelong learning, and industry preparedness in shaping successful careers in the digital era.
